AHL Technologies at a glance.

Who we are, what we build, how we work and how to engage us, in one place.

AHL Technologies

Build. Automate. Deploy. Grow.

About us

AHL Technologies started as a web and eCommerce development company, building websites and online stores for businesses in Pakistan, the UAE and beyond.

As our clients' needs grew, so did our work: custom software, CRM and ERP integrations, mobile apps and, more recently, AI applications and automation that connect every part of a business.

Today we work as a technology partner rather than a vendor. We help clients decide what to build, build it properly, deploy it to production and keep improving it.

Build

Websites, web applications, SaaS, eCommerce, marketplaces, mobile apps and custom software.

AI

Applications, assistants and agents on Claude, OpenAI and Gemini, connected to your data.

Automate

WhatsApp, eCommerce, CRM and business workflow automation.

Deploy

GitHub, CI/CD, Vercel, Replit, AWS and Cloudflare, plus migration and modernisation.

Grow

SEO, paid media, analytics and conversion optimisation.

How we work

01

Discover

We understand your business, users, goals and constraints before proposing anything.

02

Plan

Product and technical strategy: scope, architecture, milestones and a clear estimate.

03

Design

User journeys, UX and UI designed around how your customers actually behave.

04

Build

Iterative development in short cycles, with working software you can review early.

05

Integrate

Payments, APIs, AI models, CRMs and automation connected into one system.

06

Test

Functional QA, security checks, accessibility and performance testing.

07

Deploy

Production deployment with CI/CD, monitoring and a documented rollback path.

08

Grow

Ongoing optimisation, maintenance, automation and support after launch.

Ways to work with us

Staff augmentation

Individual professionals join your existing team and work inside your tools, workflows and management structure, as if they were part of your company.

Monthly, per professional

Dedicated development team

A team of developers and the specialists you need (for example QA, design or DevOps) works on your product roadmap or business applications on an ongoing basis.

Monthly, for the whole team

Managed project delivery

AHL takes responsibility for agreed deliverables, scope, milestones, testing and handover, as defined in the contract.
